Virginia Legislature.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

Wednesday Nov. 20

Mr. Baker, (from the C. of P. & G.) reported two resolutions from that committee—1st. That the petition of John Lynch and others, proprietors of tobacco ware houses at Lynchburg, for the increase of the price of storage, is reasonable—2d. That the petition of sundry inhabitants of Chesterfield, that the act passed at the last session for changing the day of holding their county court, is reasonable,—Both of which resolutions were concurred in.

Mr. Tazewell, (from the C of C. of Justice) reported several resolutions—1st That the petition of Catharine Evans, who was deserted by her husband on the morning after their marriage, and who was now living in Kentucky with a concubine, should, notwithstanding, be rejected.—2d. That the petition of W. Heiskill, to hold a certain slave which he had brought from Tennessee, was reasonable.—3d. That George Clark, of Patrick, who had acquired two slaves by gift from his father in law in N. C. be permitted to bring them into Virginia 4th. That the petition of Sally Catewood, that Floreal Florella, an emancipated girl, be permitted to remain in this state, was reasonable—All of which resolutions were adopted.

Mr. Mercer, (of S.) presented a petition from a number of citizens of Spotsylvania, and town of Fredericksburg, praying that the Superior Court of Law, may be held at the court house of the corporation of Fredericksburg, instead of the court house of the county, the principal reasons assigned are, that there would be a greater facility in getting juries, a better jail, and better accommodation in the public houses, &c.—Referred.

Mr. Jackson, one from John C. Jackson, praying the passage of a law to give him the right of establishing a toll-bridge, over the West Fork of the Monongahela, near the mouth of Elk Creek.

Mr. Scott, one from C. M. Colly Sheriff of Elizabeth City county, praying further time to collect the revenue of that county, because of the extreme scarcity of that species of money, which is received for the taxes, its trade being principally with Baltimore, whose notes are not received. Referred.

One was presented from the citizens of Wood county praying that an act may pass for calling a convention—Referred to the committee on the Staunton Memorial.

Mr. Pollard, one from Harry Jackson, a free man of colour, residing in the borough of Norfolk, stating that he was serving an apprenticeship to the business of a pilot, and that it was his intention to apply for a branch as soon as he became of age, but in the mean time, a law was passed prohibiting people of colour from being pilots, praying that a law may pass permitting him to qualify as one.

Mr. Grymes stated that when the memorial of the Staunton Convention was referred, he expected that the protest of the Minority would be presented, received and referred to the same committee—Having been disappointed in this expectation, he begged leave to present it, and moved its reference.

Some discussion took place upon this point. The speaker said, that operating as a counter memorial, it would be received of course. Mr. Mercer [of L.] asked, whether it could be called a memorial at all? If not, how could it be received any more than a treatise on any other subject? Mr. Grymes had no anxiety about the character which it should assume. He would christen and call it a counter memorial, if the gentleman wished it. Mr Mercer had doubts, whether the gentleman could call it what he pleased, he enquired again, if this could be received, why not a treatise on the law? The speaker observed, that the memorial came from a party of gentlemen, called the Staunton Convention; the Protest from another portion of the same party, who protested against their proceedings. There seemed a necessary connection between the papers, not so between the memorial and the treatise.—Mr. Mercer adhered to his ground, and asked, whether this protest was presented at the request of any of those gentlemen? Was the gentlemen from Middlesex authorised to present it? Mr. Grymes said, it had been this morning handed to him by one of the protestors. Mr. Mercer Did he ask the gentlemen from Middlesex to present it. Mr. Grymes said, he thought any member had a right to bring forward any paper he thought proper. But why this opposition to the present paper? The Speaker observed, that he had been under the impression that this protest had been offered by the application or direction of some of the gentlemen, concerned in it. Mr. Mercer said, it struck him that this was the mistake into which the chair had fallen. It was from no opposition to this paper, but from his regard to the rules of the house that he had stated his objections.

The Speaker repeated what he had yesterday observed, that all papers which were offered, were not necessarily referred, of course, unless they had an intimate connexion with those already referred, still, though they were not referred, they might be used by a member before the committee. Mr. Thweat observed, that he considered the Staunton memorial as presenting one of the most important questions which could be discussed, not less than the dissolution of the present form of government, and the formation of a new constitution. This memorial had been drawn up by a set of enlightened men, the protest was a luminous exposition by another of the same convention, who had differed with the others in opinion. Should we then stickle ie altogether to form? Might we not, in such a case, dispense with the rules of the House? The speaker observed, that there was no specific rule on this subject; but a general principle, that where a paper was offered, it was not necessarily referred of course; for his own part, he did not now feel himself authorised to receive this paper without the leave of the House.

Mr. Williams said, some gentlemen may not have understood the nature of the protest (and as he was a member of the Staunton Convention,) he could observe, that the memorial was in favour of calling a convention for general purposes; the protest was not against a convention, but merely limiting it to certain specific objects—He did not conceive it could properly be called a counter memorial. Some further discussion ensued upon points of order. In the course of some remarks, which fell from Mr. Mercer, he repeated, that it was from no opposition to the protest itself, he had made any objections, for the gentlemen, who dratted it he felt great respect. He himself should be opposed to a convention, if certain defects could be amended without it.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Grymes begged the house to let in all the light which they could find on this interesting subject, to open their minds to the information contained in that protest.

The Speaker then pronounced the question whether the protest should be received with a view of referring it to the Select committee; which was carried—as also Mr. Grymes's motion, to refer it to them—and Mr. Baker's, to have it printed.

Mr Baker, presented a petition from sundry citizens of Cumberland, Buckingham, and other counties interested in the navigation of Willis's River, for a law, further to improve the navigation of that river. Referred.

Mr. Mercer [of L.] one, from sundry citizens of Loudon, praying a charter for a banking company at Leesburg.—Referred to the Select Committee.

And Mr. Stokely—one, from sundry inhabitants of Wood county, praying that a bank may be established at Parkersburg. Mr. S. disclaimed the old bank which had been established there without the consent of the people of Wood.—Also Referred.

Mr. Doddridge observed, that though he had received no petition from Brooke county, to ask for a bank at Charleston, yet, as all the banks which had prayed for Charters last Winter with the exception of two, had again come forward, and with one new applicant, were now before the select committee, he conceived himself bound to apply in behalf of his county—that the select committee would perhaps act definitely this night, and if he waited for the petition from his county, it might contribute to delay the proceedings—He, therefore, offered a resolution, that the select committee, to whom were referred the petitions for bank charters, be instructed to enquire into the expediency of establishing a banking company at Charleston in Brooke county, with a capital of dollars, one at Warrenton in the County of Fauquier—and one at West End, in Fairfax.—Agreed to.

The petition for a divorce of Anne P. Cowper was presented by Mr. Atkinson. Previous to its being read, he wished to state, if any objection should be made or apology required on account of the language of the petition, that it was drawn up by the lady herself.

The petition was very long, consisting of perhaps a dozen or fifteen folio pages, and is one of the most perfect pictures of genuine eloquence that we have ever seen. Mrs. Siddons had never the power, with her best performance, and with all the interest that Shakespeare could combine in the most heartrending scene, so rapidly to compel the tears to chase each other, as had this tale of suffering: told in unstrained terms; but such as strained the heartstrings of the audience, equally with sympathy for the lady, and with indignation against—we were near saying husband or man—the person from whom she asks a legal divorce. It is a most finished piece of composition, without the least appearance of labor. It was read by Mr. Munford with his usual accuracy and distinctness: and was heard by men, few if any of whom could keep the mother from the eyes.

The petitioner states that she is the only child of the Hon. Josiah Parker deceased, an officer of the revolution, at the battle of Trenton, and in many other engagements, known for his courage and skill: who closed his military career at the seige of York. He was for many years a member of Congress, from Norfolk, under the administrations of Washington and Adams. The petitioner made a very handsome apology for reminding the house of the public services of her father. She married a captain Cowper, of Norfolk, with whom she lived happily for some time. A few years after the house of which her husband was a partner failed: and she returned to her father for support. Some time after this from the profits of voyages he was able again to go into business with a capital of five thousand dollars: but such were his habits that he again failed. She again returned to her father, whom, as well as his wife, the husband greatly abused. His deportment had been such that Mr. Parker would not again take him into favor. In his destitute situation she privately supplied him with a part of her father's bounty to her. Her father died, leaving her an annual income of 150l. and other property: and the bulk of his estate to her then only son, on condition that he should take the surname of Parker.

The petition proceeds to give a relation of his endeavers to get the boy into a convent in Spain, or destroying him, expecting, thus doing, to possess the property: his pretended sorrow for past misconduct and ill treatment: the reconciliation—subsequent cruelty—horse-whipping and choaking his wife—attempts to destroy the boy—the expected birth of another child, premature on account of the father's cruelty—his previous commands to destroy it in utero—attempts on her life his orders to dig up her father's bones and scatter his ashes to the winds, &c. &c.

The petition was referred.

Mr. Estill moved that the select committee be instructed to enquire into the expediency of incorporating a bank to be located at Abingdon [County of Washington,] and one at Staunton [in Augusta,] Referred. Adjourned.

Distressing Case.

The following distressing account appears in a late Caledonian Mercury.

One morning last week, an unfortunate man in Edinburgh put an end to his life. A widow, and three helpless children, one of whom is only 3 years of age, and another not two months, are the unhappy sufferers by this event.—The deceased was a confidental clerk, in a respectable house in that city; distinguished for intelligence superior to his station in society, and his conduct through life marked by the strictest integrity and sobriety. About six weeks ago he fell into a state of melancholy, and in spite of every effort to divert or soothe him, the malady gradually increased. While in this state, he swallowed a quantity of laudanum; but by the intreaties of his afflicted wife, he was prevailed upon to take an intidote. From this period, however, his language and conduct bespoke a fixed determination to effect his purpose by means more speedy and certain; and his wife, aware that any interference on the part of others would only have accelerated his design, concealed her distress, still indulging the hope that she might be able to divert him from his purpose. His eldest son, an interesting youth about thirteen, never failed, under some pretence or other, to accompany him to the place of his employment, and to be in the way to return with him. The situation of the wife and son during this interval may be better conceived than described. On Tuesday morning last, at half past 5 o'clock, he stole from his bed, and though discovered by his son, and afterwards by his wife, with a pistol in his hand, he contrived in a few minutes to elude the vigilance of his family, and finally committed the desperate act, which laid him, who had hitherto been their faithful and affectionate protector, lifeless at their feet. On the night preceding this catastrophe, he read to his wife the following lines, which appear to have been partly written in the course of the day. They were found in his pocket next morning, and describe in a very striking manner the horror of mind to which he fell a victim.

Firm, fixed as fate, misfortune takes her stand,
Nor will abate one ounce. The cup is full.
The bitter draught is mixed, and drink it to the dregs.
It must. Well, be it so. But will that drink suffice;
Will that ensure oblivion, cancel injuries,
And reparation make to the—faithful, unfortunate,
Worthy a better fate. And ye, poor innocents!
This lucid moment tells me it will not.
Alas! it tells me more.—Distraction!
Art thou here again?
Avaunt thou imp of darkness—Despair!
Dost thou again assail me?—Cursed impiety!
And dare I harbor thee!—
Oh God, thou know'st the texture & the frame,
Of human passion. If thou would'st thou could'st,
But then the will of man were not left free,
What then were man?—A passive agent.
Where does this lead? Reverts it not against me?
Well. I will chase distraction. It I can chace,
But who is proof against insanity? For once I'll try,
Thus far I keep coherence. Perhaps I'll conquer.
This night is mine so far. To morrow is to face,
"Whatever is is right." This is not clear.

A mind at ease may say so. But to say,
And feel are two distinct and seperate things,
I'm not well school'd in this philosophy.
Other enigmas crowd upon my mind,
Have I been rampant, wilful, proue to vice?
My general conduct does believe it. No.
The general tenor of my life was regular;
My will, my actions, leaned to what was right,
And yet, O! riddle to myself! how stands it.
Curse —cruel——but——perhaps——
'Tis darkness——The reason why and wherefore,
This singularity?—
Ruin immense! and immeasurable horror!
My brain again! Oh! fatal credulity!
Fatal, thrice fatal to me and mine.
No opening let?—No, not a crevice!
Fate circumscribes the circle, and I the centre—
Off,—rable. off—ye are no judges,
Oh! my poor innocents! Oh! oh!

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 25.

His excellency M. De Neuville & suit, Ambassador of His Most Christian Majesty the King of France and Navarre, arrived at the seat of government on Thursday.

His excellency M. Correer De Serra, Portuguese Minister, on Friday.

The Swedish Minister M. De Kantzow, will be in Washington first of December.

The Spanish Minister Don Onis, is now on his way there.

The newspapers, from New-York to Washington, have with the utmost verity, circulated statements on the subject of the present situation of the relations between the United States and Russia. It has been said that Mr. Dashkoff, the minister of Russia, has been recalled—that his mission is at an end; that he will leave this country as soon as he can arrange his affairs, and that this is the result of a negotiation relative to the arrest of the consul general for a criminal offence committed in Philadelphia.

We are enabled to state, that Mr. Dashkoff has not been recalled by his sovereign. Negotiations have been, for some time, carried on between the Executive of this United States and Mr. Dashkoff, relative to the arrest of the consul general of Russia, on a charge asserted to be altogether false and malicious, and in reference to which the demands made by the minister of Russia on the United States, were made under positive and specific instructions. The result of these negociations not being conformable to the expectations of the court of Russia, Mr. Dashkoff, under the express terms of his instructions, is at liberty to withdraw from the United States, and thus to terminate all further diplomatic intercourse between the two nations. We understand he delays to take this step, under the ardent hope that some circumstances will occur which will remove the present difficulties, as contrary to his wishes, as they are opposed to the friendly dispositions always manifested by his court towards the U. States.

The term committed, which has been used in some of the newspaper accounts, as it implies an assertion that the consul general has violated our laws, is erroneous and improper. On any occasion in which his conduct could have been legally investigated, he was ready to establish his innocence by the most satisfactory testimony.

U. S. Gazette.

COUNTERFEITERS AGAIN.

There are now circulating $20 notes of the Union bank of Maryland. So well executed as to deceive the nicest judges—Cashier Henry Payson—but in the counterfeit notes Payson's name is signed Paysond—the n with a stroke turned over the last letter. Also $5 of the branch bank at Wilmington of the Dover bank. Both these plates are so well done as to induce a suspicion that some person must have seen and used the plate as they are almost fac simile.

GEORGIA.—George M. Troup, lately a representative in Congress from the state of Georgia, is elected a senator in Congress from that state, in the place of Wm. W. Bibb, whose term of service will expire on the 4th day of March next.

Liverpool, 24th October, 1816.

We beg leave to advise you of the most material changes that have taken place in the state and prospects of our market for American produce, since our circular of the 14th ult. was transmitted to you.

The demand for pot ashes for exportation has continued to be nearly equal to the extent of the imports from the U. States. The last sales of New-York pot ashes were at 43s per cwt in bond, and one or two orders remain unexecuted, which are limited to 42s. The demand for pot ashes for home use is almost wholly supplied by Montreal ashes, which sell in small quantities at 50s per cwt. Pearl ashes have become extremely scarce, and sell at 67s to 68s per cwt with a prospect of higher prices being obtained for them, unless the imports become more considerable than they have recently been. The demand for ashes in Ireland is exceedingly limited, and an expectation prevails both there and in this country that the price of pot ashes will be lower. The demand of Quercitron bark is still very limited, and although the imports of it have almost ceased, yet from the largeness of the stocks the prices do not improve.—Some small parcels of very fine Philadelphia barks have been sold at 19s per cwt but more than 17s 6d to 18s 6d per cwt cannot be obtained for larger quantities. New York barks are not in much demand at 15s to 17s per cwt. American shumac unsaleable, and nominally 14s to 15s per cwt. Bees wax 210s per cwt. From the wetness of the season clover seed has been very much injured, and the price has advanced: the best English is now worth 95s per cwt. and American would sell at 80s to 85s per cwt.

Since the date of our last circular there has been a very good demand for cottons, the sales having averaged 5400 bags per week. The demand has chiefly been for Uplands, the prices of which declined a trifle towards the end of September, but have since regained their previous currency; whilst the prices of Sea Islands and Brazils have declined about 2d per lb. Upland Georgias now sell at 17 1-2d to 20d; New-Orleans 18d to 22d; good Charleston and Savannah Sea Islands 2s 1-2d to 2s 2d, and those of a particularly fine quality at 2s 3d to 2s 5d; stained 18d to 22d per lb. The demand for cotton twist of the low qualities for exportation is still good, and at profitable prices; and the demand for manufactured goods is better than it was, but the prices are still very low and unprofitable. The total imports of cotton of all descriptions into Liverpool in the present year amount to 259,000 bags, of which 137,700 have been from the United States. The stock is computed to be about 100,000 bags, of which 30 to 35,000 consist of Upland and Orleans. The stock of Sea-Islands being principally in the hands of the dealers is not so easily ascertained, but is supposed to amount to 18,000 bags. With regard to future prices we may remark, that the high prices of the present year have been maintained from an opinion that the imports would have been less considerable, and from the demand for cotton twist for exportation having been much greater than it was expected to be. Should the produce of the present crop in America be abundant, there can be no doubt but the prices next year will be considerably lower than they have been in the present: at the same time, as the consumption runs very much on Uplands, the first imports of the new crop may be expected to command a ready sale and comparatively high prices. Orleans cottons of the best qualities are particularly scarce

There has lately been a good demand for tar on speculation, cargoes of Wilmington selling readily at 18s per barrel, and thick Virginia at 14s to 15s; turpentine is in fair demand, but not brisk; some of a good quality just landed has been sold at 14s 6d per cwt and inferior may be quoted at 12s to 13s 6d per cwt. American rosin and pitch unsaleable, & nominally 7s per cwt. There has been a good demand for Rice for exportation for some time past; a fortnight ago it was selling at 23s to 25s per cwt in bond, and two days afterwards it advanced to 27s, but it was again dull, and nominally 30s to 32s per cwt. Flaxseed for crushing would sell readily at 50s a hhd and it is likelier to be higher. Staves of a good quality are in request; white oak sell at 10 to 13l, hogshead at 16 to 21 l. pipe at 26 to 30l, and red oak hogsheads at 9 to 10l per thousand. Timber is in fair demand; New-England pine at 18d to 20d; hardwood at 20d to 22d; oak at 2s 9d to 3s 6d; and pitch pine at 2 4d to 2s 6d per cubic foot.

There is at present a good demand for the best qualities of leaf and stemmed tobaccos for the home trade, and the prices are a little higher: Virginia leaf now sells at 6d to 13 1-2d: stemmed at 11d to 18 1-2d: Georgia, Carolina and Kentucky at 5 1-2 to 8 1-2; Maryland 5 1-2 to 8 1-2d. fine yellow at 10d to 13d per lb.

From the middle until nearly the end of Sept. the weather throughout the country was tolerably good, during which period, considerable progress was made in the harvest, and a hope entertained that the produce might have been a fair average crop; but for upwards of the last three weeks the weather has again been particularly wet and unfavorable for finishing the harvest, which throughout the whole kingdom, is not more than three fourths secured. All descriptions of grain have been materially injured by the badness of the weather, and, from the deficiency in quantity and quality, the total produce may be fairly estimated as far exceeding three fourths of an average crop. The proportion of good wheat or other grain this crop will be smaller than it has been since 1799, and probably smaller than it has been since 1791, and probably smaller than it was in that year. From the shrivelled appearance and soft quality of the new wheats, very few of them are yet in a fit state for the present use: the best old wheats sell readily in this market at 16s per 70lb: and in most parts of the kingdom they command prices not materially different; whilst the new wheats in general sell for little more than two thirds of the price. The best American flour would at this time command 66s to 68s a bbl. and sour flour in bond has been sold at 50s, the stock of which in this market is nearly 50,000 bbls. The average price of wheat in the twelve maritime districts of England and Wales, for the week ending the 5th October was 85s 1d, for the week ending the 5th October 87s 8d per quarter, and in the last and present weeks it will be higher, which leave no doubt whatever of the ports being open for importation for home use of Wheat and flour between 15th November and 15th Febuary next. As the harvests in the South of Europe generally has been a bad one, there will be little or no import from that quarter; and as the season of the year will prevent any large import from being received from the Baltic, it is highly probable that the ports may remain open until the 15th of May; but it will be advisable for vessels arriving after the 15th February to call for orders, that they may proceed to some other place, should the ports in this country, contrary to expectation, not remain for importation. The average prices of all grain except Wheat are yet under the limits by which importation is permitted for home consumption; but it is probable that the ports will be open for the imports of Barley, Indian Corn and Oats. With a reference to future prices, we may remark, that good wheat and flour are likely to meet a ready sale for the next six or nine months, and we have no apprehension of being overstocked with either; the consumption so far has been supplied from the surplus produce of late years, and had this resource not been possessed, the prices would now have been very considerably higher. It is impossible to form a correct opinion of the remaining stocks of old grain in the country, but they probably do not now exceed three or four weeks consumption. It is also of importance to notice, that the crop of potatoes will not upon the whole be an abundant one, and that it is not unlikely but that the prices of old wheat may, in the next few weeks, be higher than when the ports shall become open for importation; and that two or three weeks good weather would still be of essential service, not only to the crops on the ground, but in hardening the grain that is already secured.

The Premium of Insurance to the U. S. is now Five Guineas per cent. by American and British ships; and from the U. States 10s per cent. American new six per cent. Stock now sells in London at 90. Three per cent at 54. Portugal Gold in coin at 78s 6d, Doubloons at 74s and Dollars at 4s 10d per ounce.

Refering to the next Table of Duties payable on produce imported from the U. States.

We remain, with much respect,
Your very obedient servants.

The duty on boards of all kinds, and on pine planks, are so high as almost to amount to a prohibition of their importation. Tobacco on importation is deposited in the king's warehouse, & remains there free of expense for 18 months; and if not then exported, the duty is paid by the buyer. Rice is bonded, and when taken out for home use, the duty is also paid by the buyer. Cotton wool, flaxseed, indigo, rice and tobacco, may be imported without licenses, for home use and exportation, in vessels of any place in amity with his majesty, from any place; but when they are so imported, they are chargeable with the same duties which were recently collected on produce imported by American ships. Cotton wool not being the produce of the U. States, but coming from that country in an American ship, is still liable to the high duty of 25s. 6d. per 100lb.

Rice, when imported for home use direct from the U. States, is liable to the high duty of 20s 1-4d per cwt. but when it is imported by a British vessel, from a British colony, it is only liable to a duty of 7s 6d 1 4d per cwt. By an alteration in the corn laws of this country, wheat and flour cannot be imported for home consumption until the average price of wheat becomes 80s per quarter or upwards; but both may be bonded for exportation, or they may afterwards be taken out of bond for home use, free of duty, whenever the average price of the last six weeks in that quarter becomes 80s or upwards: for the quarter ending the 5th August it was 76s 6d

Extract of a letter from Liverpool, October 24, 1816.

We merely add a line by this conveyance (the Importer) merely to state that we have no alteration to notice in our markets generally. Wheat and flour are on the advance; for the former 17s 6d per 70 lbs. was paid yesterday. The last average was up to the 12th instant, 87s 9d per quarter. About 550 bags of cotton was sold yesterday at 18d to 20d per lb. for uplands, and 13½ for middling New Orleans. We remain, very respectfully, etc.

October 18 d

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to cary off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions orfoulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomitiug; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during th warm seaeon, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this la complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant mineral (the basis of other lotions) and of unparralled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples inflamatory redness, scurf, tetters, ring worms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climate unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.
